Holders of public office should take decisions solely in terms of the public interest.

Nolan Principles

SELFLESSNESS

Holders of public office must act and take decisions impartially, fairly and on merit, using the best evidence and without discrimination or bias.

OBJECTIVITY

Holders of public office must avoid placing themselves under any obligation to people or organisations that might try inappropriately to influence them in their work. They should not act or take decisions in order to gain financial or other material benefits for themselves, their family, or their friends. They must declare and resolve any interests and relationships.

INTEGRITY

Holders of public office are accountable for their decisions and actions to the public and must submit themselves to the scrutiny necessary to ensure this.

ACCOUNTABILITY

Holders of public office should act and take decisions in an open and transparent manner. Information should be disclosed to the public unless there are clear and lawful reasons for not disclosing it.

OPENNESS

Holders of public office have a duty to declare any private interests relating to their public duties and to take steps to resolve any conflicts arising in a way that protects the public interest. Holders of public office should be truthful.

HONESTY

Holders of public office should exhibit these principles in their own behaviour. They should actively promote and robustly support the principles and be willing to challenge poor behaviour wherever it occurs.

LEADERSHIP
